

Online Career Tools

by the U.S. Department of Labor

- ◆ My Next Move (www.MyNextMove.org) gives you three main ways to explore careers. It also has an online interest assessment, and then gives you an easy-to-read, one-page profile of each occupation. The profile lists knowledge, skills, abilities, technologies used, salary information, and links to training and employment opportunities.

The screenshot shows the My Next Move website. At the top, it says "MY NEXT MOVE" with the O*NET logo. Below this is the question "What do you want to do for a living?". There are three main options: "I want to be a ...", "I'll know it when I see it.", and "I'm not really sure.". Each option has a corresponding icon and a button: "Search careers with key words.", "Browse careers by industry.", and "Tell us what you like to do.". Below these are three smaller sections: "Still not sure? Check out careers in these groups:", "Are you a veteran looking for work?", and "¿Hable español?".

- ◆ Occupational Information Network (O*NET) Online (www.onetonline.org) has more detailed occupational data, for career counselors, researchers, human resources professionals, and the public. It is the source of information for the MyNextMove.org website.

The screenshot shows the O*NET OnLine website. At the top, it says "O*NET OnLine" with the O*NET logo. Below this is a search bar labeled "Occupation Quick Search:". There are three main sections: "Find Occupations", "Advanced Search", and "Crosswalks". Each section has a brief description and a button. To the right of these sections are three boxes: "What's New?", "I want to be a...", and "ATTN: VETERANS". At the bottom right, there is a box for "Hot Technologies".

Online Career Tools

by the U.S. Department of Labor

- ◆ CareerOneStop (www.CareerOneStop.org) helps you learn about jobs and careers, know salary and benefit information, find education and training opportunities, plan a job search and browse job sites, write and improve resumes and cover letters, prepare for a job interview, and search for jobs.

The screenshot shows the CareerOneStop website. At the top, the logo features a stylized American flag and the text "careeronestop your source for career exploration, training & jobs". Below the logo, it states "Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor. A proud partner of the americanjobcenter network." A search bar on the right says "Search CareerOneStop" with a magnifying glass icon. A blue navigation bar contains links: "Explore Careers", "Find Training", "Job Search", "Find Local Help", "Toolkit", and "Resources For". Below this is a large video player showing a man in a blue shirt and tie speaking to two children. Under the video are four buttons: "Explore Careers", "Find Training", "Job Search", and "Find Local Help". Below the video player is a "Resources for" section with the text "Find career, training and job search resources just for you." and a grid of buttons: "Getting Back to Work", "Career Changer", "Military and Veterans", "Worker with a Criminal Conviction", "Businesses", "Entry-level Worker", "55+ workers", "Young Adult", "Workers with Disabilities", "Career Advisors", "Credential Seeker", "Self-employment", and "Work from home". Below the resources section is a "Top Videos" section with four video thumbnails: "What Can CareerOneStop Do For You?", "Bakers", "Web Developers", and "Environmental Engineers".

careeronestop
your source for career exploration, training & jobs
Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor. A proud partner of the americanjobcenter network.

Search CareerOneStop

Explore Careers Find Training Job Search Find Local Help Toolkit Resources For

Explore Careers Find Training Job Search Find Local Help

Resources for

Find career, training and job search resources just for you.

Getting Back to Work	Career Changer	Military and Veterans	Worker with a Criminal Conviction	Businesses
Entry-level Worker	55+ workers	Young Adult	Workers with Disabilities	Career Advisors
Credential Seeker	Self-employment	Work from home

Top Videos

What Can CareerOneStop Do For You? Bakers Web Developers Environmental Engineers

The website also has information about occupational licenses, <https://www.careeronestop.org/Credentials/Toolkit/find-licenses.aspx>.