

Segment One: 'There's More to Healthcare Jobs Than Doctors and Nurses'

Healthcare Career Detective Puzzle

In HCI Video Segment One: 'There's More to Healthcare Jobs Than Doctors and Nurses', you learned that healthcare jobs fall into three different categories. Use your detective skills and place each job from the 'Career List' to the left under the correct 'Healthcare Category' column to the right.
Hint: Clues are in (parentheses)

CAREER LIST:

Medical Laboratory Technologist

(Solves medical mysteries by examining blood samples)

Paramedic

(Gives care to people in emergency situations)

Physical Therapist

(Plans exercise treatments that help improve the movement of a patient)

Diagnostic Sonographer

(Uses sound waves to take pictures inside a patients body to diagnose medical conditions)

Nursing Assistant

(Cares for patients under the direction of doctors and nurses)

Electroneurodiagnostic Technologist

(Attaches electrodes to the patient to check the central nervous system)

Surgical Technologist

(Works on a surgical team to assist the surgeon)

Nuclear Medicine Technologist

(Uses nuclides and radiation to help diagnose and treat a disease)

Optometrist

(Tests eye sight)

Dental Hygienist

(Cleans peoples teeth and helps with care of gums and teeth)

Radiographer

(Uses X-rays to see injury and track down disease inside the body)

Sterile Processing & Distribution Technologist

(Prepares equipment and supplies for surgery)

Health Information Management Technician

(Manages patients health records)

Medical Assistant

(Gathers and records patient's information)

Pharmacist

(Fills prescription orders from a doctor for a patient's medication)

Direct Patient Care

(People in this category like to work in direct contact with patients)

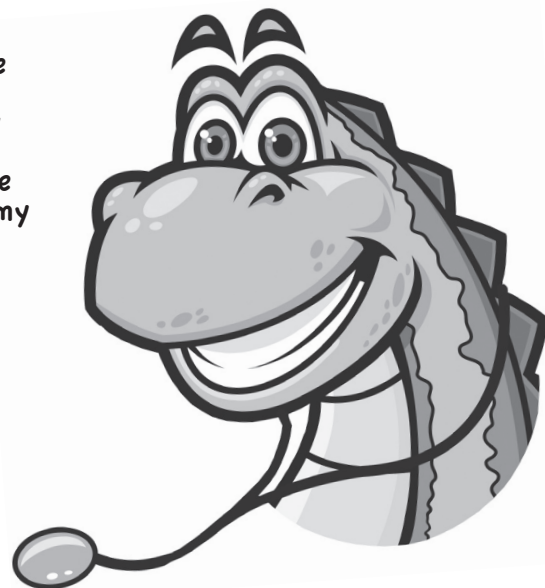

Diagnostic Services

(People in this category look inside a patient's body to find clues to an illness)

Support Services

(People in this category work behind the scenes keeping medical records, assisting doctors and nurses or preparing supplies for surgery)

Hi, my name is Tri-C-A-Tops.
I am the official mascot for the Cuyahoga Community College
Health Careers Summer Academy for 5th & 6th graders.
If you're interested in healthcare and would like to attend one of my FREE summer camps, go to www.healthy-careers.org
to learn how to apply.

AMAZE YOURSELF
HCI www.healthy-careers.org
HEALTHCARE
CAREERS INITIATIVE